

GERMANY IN LEAGUE "WITHIN SHORT TIME"

RADICAL CLAUSE IS STRICKEN OUT

Senate Places Knox Resolution on Calendar for Early Consideration.

MEASURE IS AMENDED

Foreign Relations Committee Eliminates Section Declaring Policy of United States Is to Combat Future European Menace.

Washington, June 13.—The senate placed the resolution of Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, to have the senate declare definitely it cannot accept the league of nations interwoven with the peace treaty, on the calendar for consideration early next week.

In reporting the measure, the Foreign Relations committee amended it to strike out the section which would have declared it a policy of the American government to co-operate in combating any future menace to the peace of Europe. The provision was eliminated by friends of the resolution after it became apparent that otherwise favorable committee action might be endangered.

On the motion to amend, as well as on the final vote, all the Democratic members voted in the negative and in each case they were joined by Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, a league supporter. On final approval the vote stood 8 to 7.

Two unsuccessful motions to postpone action by the committee until next week were made by Senator Pittman, Democrat, of Nevada. The senate adjourned until Monday so there would be no debate on the resolution this week.

When the measure comes up the first of the week, its supporters will try to press it to an early vote so that if adopted, it will reach the Versailles conference before the signing of the treaty. The league supporters are expected to make a bitter fight against any such action. While they disclaim any intention to conduct a filibuster, they say they will not permit a vote until the resolution has been discussed at length.

A resolution reserving the right of the American congress to determine the justness of the obligations imposed upon this country under the much discussed section 19 of the League of Nations covenant, was meanwhile introduced by Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota.

ARMY OFFICER DISAPPEARS

Artillery Lieutenant and Payroll Money Are Missing.

Coblenz, June 13.—Orders were issued at the headquarters of the Third army for the arrest on a charge of grand larceny of Lieut. John Gottenkeine of the Fifth Field artillery regiment, who disappeared several days ago with about 500,000 marks of army pay funds. Gottenkeine, who is a native of Alsace, enlisted at Fort Sill, Okla.

Officers of the First division say that Gottenkeine obtained the money to pay off the men of the Fifth field artillery.

WON'T SEND WIRE BUSINESS

Railway Keymen Ordered Not to Handle Commercial Messages.

St. Louis, June 13.—An order directing members of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers to discontinue handling business of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies after 6 a. m., Saturday, June 14, was issued here by E. J. Manion, president of the railroad telegraphers. The order affects 80,000 railroad operators and approximately 30,000 railroad telegraph offices, according to officials of the organization.

WOODMEN INCREASE RATES

New Assessment Figures Go Into Effect July 1.

Rock Island, Ill., June 13.—The referendum vote of the Modern Woodmen of America membership has sustained the new assessment rates recently adopted and the new rates will take effect July 1, J. G. Ray, assistant head clerk announced. The official count shows 75,426 voted for the increase and 45,899 against.

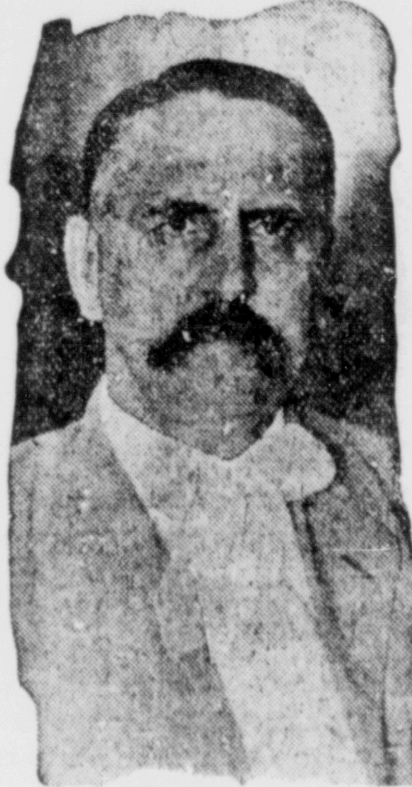

CLAIMS ARE CONFLICTING

Few New Developments in Strike of Telegraphers.

Chicago, June 13.—Despite claims of union officials that 18,000 telegraph operators were idle and that the tieup would be complete by Monday, commercial telegraph business, particularly between the larger cities, is being handled on practically a normal basis, according to reports to the commercial companies here.

JAMES A. TAWNEY

Former Minnesota Representative in Congress Dead.

James A. Tawney, for 18 years one of Minnesota's representatives in Congress, member of the International Joint commission for settlement of Canadian-American disputes, died at Excelsior Springs, Mo. He was 64 years of age.

FUEL CONTROL SYSTEM

Federal Officials Have Perfected Peace-Time Plan.

Dr. H. A. Garfield Issues Statement Saying President Wilson Favors Course.

Seattle, June 13.—A plan has been worked out by the Federal Fuel administration to administer fuel after peace is declared, which has the approval of President Wilson, according to a statement issued by Dr. Harry A. Garfield, fuel administrator.

The statement was issued through the office of David Whitcomb, former executive secretary of the Fuel administration, upon the return of Mr. Whitcomb with Dr. and Mrs. Garfield from a trip to Ranier National park.

The statement follows: "With the actual coming of peace, the Federal Fuel administration ceases to exist. I hope, however, that there will be a plan, not to continue the Fuel administration, but to continue to administer fuel—a part of a general plan under which the government shall continue something of that intimate relation with industry which was created during the war. Such a plan we have worked out, and it has received the approval of the President."

TELEPHONE STRIKE MONDAY

A. F. of L. Takes Steps to Obtain Settlement.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 13.—A strike designed to cripple the telephone systems of the country, will begin Monday with the full moral support of the American Federation of Labor unless a satisfactory working agreement is reached before that time between Postmaster General Burleson and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which numbers among its members the bulk of the union telephone operators in the United States.

By unanimous vote the convention adopted a resolution giving its support to the strike.

EXPRESS OPPOSITE VIEWS

Two Physicians Disagree on Wine and Beer Effects.

Atlanta City, N. J., June 13.—Opposite views regarding the effect of beer and wines of low alcoholic content on the human system were expressed by speakers before the American Medical association in annual convention.

Dr. Lambert Ott, Philadelphia, said such drinks were healthful, and their sale under government supervision should be continued.

Dr. Bernard Fantus of Chicago, took direct issue with Dr. Ott.

CHAMPIONS ASIATIC CAUSE

Dr. S. L. Gulick Urges Naturalization of Orientals.

Washington, June 13.—Relaxation of federal laws to permit immigration and naturalization of Japanese and Chinese was urged before the house immigration committee by Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, secretary of the national committee for constructive immigration legislation, and was opposed by V. S. McClatchy, publisher of the Sacramento Bee, from whom a letter and brief were placed in the record by order of the committee.

Drafting Reply to German Proposals

BY FRED S. FERGUSON, (Staff Correspondent, United Press)
Paris, June 13.—The allied commission appointed to draft the reply to the German counter proposals began work today after receiving nine reports from the Big Four on which to base the formal document. The personnel of the commission includes: Hudson, United States; Kerr, Great Britain; Tardieu, France; Vanyukov, Italy; Sabourin, of Japan. A semi-official French note said today the reply will be handed Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau either Sunday evening or Monday morning with an eight days' time limit for the Germans to sign.

U. S. Infantry Guards Border

(By United Press)

El Paso, June 13.—Two battalions of the 24th United States Infantry, Negroes, arrived here today from Columbus, New Mexico, although not a shot has been fired between Carranzista and Villista troops. In the vicinity of Jaurez the additional American foot soldiers were declared by officials to be ready for duty at bridges and fords between El Paso and Jaurez as precautionary measures.

Bonuses May be Paid Farmers

(By United Press)

Washington, June 13.—Bonuses may be paid farmers who delay marketing their $2.26 wheat under a program being developed by the government in aiding railroads to move the biggest harvest in the nation's history.

London, June 13.—A news agency today quoted a Stockholm newspaper as stating that British warships are bombarding Kronstadt, the principal defense of Petrograd.

Transport Arrives

(By United Press)

New York, June 13.—The transport Henderson arrived today with troops.

Work of Big Five Practically Over

BY FRED S. FERGUSON, (United Press Staff Correspondent)
Paris, June 13.—Premier Orlando and General Diaz left for Rome last night convinced that the work of the Big Five is practically completed and that no more fundamental decisions will be reached by the body concerning the peace settlement. This action on the part of the Italians was assumed to mean that the allied reply to the German peace proposals would be definitely completed before night. The reply it was learned from authoritative source provides for Germany's admission to the league of nations "within a short time."

German Socialists Thrown Into Uproar

BY CARL D. GROAT, (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Weimar, Germany, June 13.—Edward Bernstein, member of the German peace delegation, caused great excitement in the convention of majority socialists today when he declared that "while the terms are harsh and some unbearable, about nine-tenths of them come from a necessity which we admit."

The statement threw the convention into an uproar and order was restored with difficulty.

Ry. Firemen and Engineers May Join in Strike

(By United Press)

Winnipeg, Canada, June 13.—The possibility of the railroad engine-men and firemen being called out today loomed as the latest development in the strike here. A delegation of these men will wait on the city council and demand re-instatement of the old city police force. The settlement of the strike was apparently as remote today as when the walkout occurred twenty-nine days ago, as told the United Press by representatives of the various factions today.

Vote May Be Close on Knox Resolution

BY L. C. MARTIN, (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, June 13.—An extremely close vote with the result in doubt was the forecast today of senate leaders in discussing the Knox resolution designated to separate the league of nations covenant from the peace treaty proper.

KOLCHAK REGIME GIVEN APPROVAL

Council of Four Extends Virtual Recognition to the Omsk Government.

AID TO BE PROVIDED

Allied Governments Evidently Intend to Furnish Arms, Munitions and Supplies for Campaign Against Anarchists.

Paris, June 13.—The Council of Four has sent a reply to the note of Admiral Kolchak extending to him and his associates in the all-Russian government at Omsk the support set forth in the original letter of the council to Kolchak.

This is interpreted here as meaning de facto recognition of the Omsk government. The text of the reply follows:

"The Allied and associated powers wish to acknowledge the receipt of Admiral Kolchak's reply to their note of May 26. They welcome the terms of that reply, which seems to them to be in substantial agreement with the propositions they had made and to contain satisfactory assurance for the freedom, self-government and peace of the Russian people and their neighbors.

"They are, therefore, willing to extend to Admiral Kolchak and his associates the support set forth in their original letter.

(Signed)

"LLOYD GEORGE, "WILSON, "CLEMENCEAU, "MAKINO."

It is believed the support referred to is the furnishing of munitions and supplies for Admiral Kolchak's campaign.

Peasants Fight Reds.
Washington, June 13.—General Gaidas' Siberian army has recaptured Glazov and is advancing on the Ufa front, according to dispatches from Omsk.

In Samara, the dispatches said, there is evidence of an increasing hostility to the Bolsheviks by the peasants upon whom heavy requisitions have been ordered.

Anti-Red Revolts Increase.
Headquarters Western Siberian Army, June 13.—Revolts of the peasantry against Bolshevik rule are increasing frequently with the advance of the Siberian army, according to the latest reports received at headquarters.

WOULD RUN DOWN BOMBERS

Palmer Asks Congress for $500,000 for Purpose.

Washington, June 13.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer has asked congress for a special $500,000 appropriation to carry on the hunt for anarchists, bombthrowers and enemies of law and order.

KING FERDINAND

Roumanian Ruler Decorates Col. H. Gideon Wells.

The king of Roumania, has decorated Col. H. Gideon Wells, of the University of Chicago, and head of the American Red Cross mission in Roumania with the Star of Roumania. In conferring the decoration the king expressed warm appreciation of the work done by Colonel Wells and his associates.

FOCH MEETS PREMIER

French Marshal Is Prepared for Renewal of War.

Further Invasion of Germany Will Follow if Envoys Refuse to Sign Treaty.

Paris, June 13.—Marcel Hutin says in the Echo de Paris that Marshal Foch and General Weygand had two conferences with Premier Clemenceau at which they discussed the question of an immediate resumption of hostilities and a concerted advance by the Allies.

The general opinion is, the writer adds, that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau has committed himself too far to be able to sign the treaty. It is also believed that the Scheidemann ministry will be swept away to make room for a ministry of moderate independent Socialists, which will be joined by Matthias Erzberger, chairman of the German armistice commission. This ministry, it is declared, would be disposed to accept the Allied conditions, which it probably would do about July 1.

FARMER MURDERED IN BED

South Dakota Man Victim of Mysterious Killing.

Mitchell, S. D., June 13.—Ernest Moehl, a young farmer of McCook county, living eight miles south of Canisota, was found dead in his bed with a bullet in his brain. Beside his bed was a piece of coarse paper, bearing the following:

"Let this be a warning to people who inform on bootleggers."
The note was written with an indelible pencil and thus far is the only clue the authorities have. Identity of the assassin is a complete mystery, as is the manner in which they attained entrance and exit from the Moehl farm home.

FIGHTERS TO HAVE JOY TRIP

War Fleets of U. S. Navy to Make Long Cruise.

Washington, June 13.—An extensive cruise of the combined Atlantic and Pacific fleet is planned for next fall and winter. Secretary Josephus Daniels said the itinerary had not been completed, but that the fleet would visit several South American ports. The cruise is planned, the secretary said, as a reward to the men of the navy for the arduous service in the war.

PORTLAND GETS SHRINERS

Wins Out Over New Orleans for Next Year's Convention.

Indianapolis, June 13.—Portland, Ore., was selected over New Orleans as the 1920 meeting place of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at the closing business session here.

REDS IN AUSTRIA TO REVOLT

Plan to Proclaim Communist Government Shortly.

London, June 13.—A communist government will be proclaimed in Austria Sunday, with promise of immediate success, according to information in government circles here.

REPLY TO REFUSE TEUTON REQUEST

Any Changes Made in Peace Terms Not to Lighten Burden on Germany.

FOETOBEGIVEN 15 DAYS

Bolshevism Again Menaces Several European Countries — Poland Is Threatened From Austria, Where Red Peril Increases.

Weimar, June 13.—The national assembly has been called to meet here to discuss and study the Allied answer to the German counter-proposals.

"We are still in office and we will stick because it is our duty to save the German people," Gustave Noske, minister of defense, declared at the meeting of the majority socialist party.

Paris, June 13.—The impression prevails here that the Allied answer to the German counter proposals, which may be ready in a day or two, will refuse the German request for important alterations in the terms of peace. The Germans will be given five days in which to make up their minds as to their course. Thus final action on the treaty may be expected on or about June 18.

While the Council of Four may grant some minor concessions it appears that there are to be no changes that will materially lighten the burden placed on the enemy by the treaty presented May 7.

Germans Withdrawing.

A dispatch from Coblenz tells of the Germans withdrawing all material from territories east of the Allied bridgeheads and says that armed German forces also have retired a considerable distance east of the ground held by the Allies on the east bank of the Rhine.

That there is a disposition on the part of the German civilian population to be prepared for an Allied advance into Germany also is indicated.

Bolshevism Menaces Again.

The menace of Bolshevism in Central Europe has again assumed proportions which cause concern in Peace conference circles. The success of the Hungarian soviet army against the Czechoslovaks, the military reverse suffered by the Kolchak forces in southeastern Russia and the danger of Austria passing under Bolshevik control have brought matters to a stage where there is no disposition in official circles to minimize the danger.

Poland, hemmed in by Bolshevism on the east and south and hard pressed by the Germans on the west, is said also to be potentially threatened from the direction of Austria.

Peacemakers Back Clemenceau.

Advices indicate that the Peace conference has decided to back up the demand made upon Bela Kun by Premier Clemenceau, president of the conference, who wired the Hungarian soviet government's foreign minister to cease hostilities against the Czechoslovaks.

The formation of a centralized organization for the control of international economic affairs during the period of reconstruction after the war is being considered by the Council of Four. There appears to be some divergence of opinion relative to the details of the plan but it seems probable that survey of the needs of European nations relative to raw materials and credits will soon be taken so that there may be a definite idea of the necessities of the situation which must be passed through before the world may be said to have returned to a peace basis.

SINKS FOLLOWING COLLISION

U. S. Steamship Goes Down After Crew Is Taken Off.

New York, June 13.—The steamship Yankee operated by the United States Shipping board, sank off Fire Island after having been in collision with the Italian steamship Argentina. The crew of the Yankee was taken aboard the Argentina.

Immediately after being struck by the Argentina, the Yankee began to list heavily and all hope of saving the vessel was abandoned.

The captain and crew were taken aboard the Argentina, which stood by for several hours until the Yankee went down.

The Yankee was built for the shipping board at Cleveland in 1918 and was engaged in coastwise trade.

American College Football Stars Who Played on or Coached Army Teams in France

Major V. C. Prichard, Captain Paul Worthington, Lieutenant Eddie Mahan and Captain Dick Hart.

In this group are four army officers who made a name for themselves on the football field before they became soldiers. The photograph was taken the day a championship match was played at Auteuil, near Paris, between the Eighty-ninth Division's eleven and a team representing St. Nazaire. Major V. C. Prichard, Seventh Corps, coach of the Eighty-ninth Division team, is a West Point man, class of '15. Captain Paul Worthington, famous Harvard player, was captain of the Eighty-ninth Division team. Lieutenant Eddie Mahan who was a star tackle at Harvard, played on the St. Nazaire team. Captain Dick Hart, who was coach of the St. Nazaire team, made a brilliant record at Princeton. The Eighty-ninth Division originally was composed of troops from Kansas, Missouri and Colorado.

JAS. A. TAWNEY DEAD

Former Minnesota Congressman
Passes Unexpectedly.

Had Gone to Missouri Resort for His Health—Was Member of Congress for Eighteen Years.

Winona, Minn., June 13.—According to advices received by the family in this city, James A. Tawney, former congressman of the First Minnesota district and one time chairman of the house appropriations committee, died at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Death was due to arterial sclerosis. Mr. Tawney had been in ill health for several months. Three weeks ago he went to Excelsior Springs for treatment. The end came unexpectedly.

Served in Congress 18 Years.
James A. Tawney was for 18 years a member of congress from the first Minnesota district, and when he retired, was chairman of the committee on appropriations. He was defeated in the 1910 primary election by Sydney Anderson, now congressman.

Mr. Tawney later was appointed by President Taft as a member of the international joint commission to settle boundary questions between the United States and Canada, and served on that commission up to the time of his death.

Saw Battle of Gettysburg.

He was born Jan. 30, 1835, at Gettysburg, Pa., and as a boy witnessed the battle of Gettysburg. He began learning the blacksmith's trade when 15 years old, and later became a machinist, working at that trade when he first came to Winona in 1877. He read law outside of working hours and in 1882 was admitted to the bar. He was elected to the state senate in 1890, and two years later began his congressional career.

REFRIGERATORS

There is real comfort in having one of our refrigerators "on duty" in your household during the hot summer months, but it also means more than that to have one in operation, it means you are practicing real economy.

Our Refrigerators

Are so scientifically constructed that they produce a cold temperature. Everything remains crisp and fresh, while the temperature remains unusually cool, the quantity of ice needed to produce this is unusually small.

For genuine satisfaction and all-around serviceability we recommend our White Mountain or Northland Refrigerators.

Prices Range From $21.50 to $45.00

WOMAN'S REALM

ENCHANTING COMEDY

Charles Dillingham's Musical Comedy One of Love and Wishing, Common to Arabian Nights

Coming to the Park theatre on Sunday evening, June 15, is Charles Dillingham's "Chin Chin," the musical comedy which is one of those tales of love and wishing, common to the Arabian Nights. All impossibilities are crowded into it, jumbled

Pekin Girls in "Chin Chin" together like the figures in a dream and in the end it resolves itself into a vehicle for the display of the clever grotesqueries of the two clever "turn" artists, Walter Wills and Roy Binder. Mr. Wills, whose body seems made of rubber and whose facial expressions change as quickly as the wheel of fortune, gave us Chin Hop Hi, Paderewski, Mile Falloffski, a Gendarme and a ventriloquist, transformations accompanied by such curious tricks and poses, such tumbling, dancing, imitating, such a running fire of jokes and fun-making that the audience fairly screamed with laughter. Mr. Binder gives us in rapid succession Chin Hop Lo, the widow, a coolie and the ring master, lightning changes of mood, manner and get-up that provoke the audience to mirth. No more diverting and entertaining "comics" have come our way for many seasons. George Usher makes an agreeable and picturesque Aladdin.

Seven Days King.

The "seven days king" was Mennello (Thomas Aniella), born in 1822. He headed a revolt against the Duke of Arcos, at Naples, July 7, 1847, forced him to abolish the tax on provisions, and for seven days was master of Naples. He was most arrogant and bloodthirsty and was assassinated July 16.

Fortunate Fish.

Weird and wonderful are the ways of willmakers. Fifty pounds sterling a year was recently left by an eccentric old gentleman in the north of England for the upkeep of a tank of perch which he had placed in his garden. The bequest calls to mind that of a certain lady who left £70 a year for the maintenance of three goldfish, provision also being made in her will for flowers to be placed on their graves. It was also affection for his pet carp, which he kept in an elegant massive bowl in his salon, which led an Italian count to leave a handsome annuity for its benefit, with special directions for its treatment.—London Mail.

She Feels Younger and Stronger

Midle-aged and older persons are apt to suffer from overworked or weakened kidneys and bladder. Mrs. Warren Dyer, Arkport, N. Y., writes: "I used Foley Kidney Pills for weak kidneys and pains in my back, and they gave me relief. After taking Foley Kidney Pills I feel younger and stronger." H. P. Dunn. mwt

WERE CHRISTIANS AT NIGHT

Tribe of Stavril in Trebizond Long Practiced Deception on Their Turk Overlords.

Not far from Trebizond (on the Black Sea in Asia Minor) live the clan of Stavril, descendants of the Greeks who kept a Greek kingdom in being until after Constantinople had fallen, writes George E. White in the American Review of Reviews.

The Stavril knew that they were of Christian ancestry, but in some hour of persecution their fathers had yielded assent to Islam. The same buildings were said to serve as mosques above ground and churches below; the same men as imams by day and priests by night; the same boys were said to be circumcized and baptized; and named both Osman and Constantine.

A few years ago these Stavril determined to throw off the mask and return to their Christian allegiance, and they did so, though at the cost of much government pressure lasting for years. With some of them I became personally acquainted when they were exiled from home. One day a Stavril met a Turkish friend, and the latter remarked, "I hear you've turned Christian." The Greek answered that they had always known that their ancestors were Christian Orthodox and they had decided to avow their original heritage. "But," said the Moslem, "you've been to mosque all these years, and we've said our prayers side by side; how did you think you could deceive God all the time?"

"I never tried to deceive God," was the answer. "He always knew just what I was. I tried to deceive you, and in that I succeeded."

N-n-no.

"How you do stutter, my poor lad! Did you ever go to a stammering school?" "N-n-no, sir; I dud-dud-do this naturally."

Find a Moth Exterminator.

Experiments of the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, have demonstrated that naphthalene is uniformly effective in protecting woollens from clothes moth infection and in killing all stages of the insect. A red cedar chest readily killed all adult moths and showed considerable killing effect upon young larvae. It did not prevent the hatching of eggs, but killed all the resulting larvae almost immediately. Red cedar chips and shavings, while not entirely effective in keeping the adult moths from laying eggs on the flannel treated, appeared to protect it from appreciable damage when used liberally.—Des Moines Register.

Walks Upside Down.

Because he walks upside down as well as right side up, the black-and-white warbler is also frequently called the black-and-white creeper, says the American Forestry association of Washington, which is conducting the national birdhouse building contest. This bird has been called a symphony in black and white because of the beautiful manner in which these two colors are used over his body. His head is barred black and white with a white stripe over each eye; he has wing bars on each wing and the inner webs of his outer tail feathers are white patched. This bird gets most of his food by gathering insects and grubs from the crevices in the bark of trees, thus destroying pests which might work injury to fine trees.

FLAG DAY

Urging that proper exercises be held throughout the state Saturday to remind citizens of the ideals of which the American flag is the symbol, Governor J. A. Burnquist has issued a proclamation designating June 14 as Flag Day.

The colors should fly from every flag staff of the city, from schools, court house, city hall, business blocks and residences.

This is the governor's proclamation:

"Great as has been the meaning of our flag in the past, it has today a more world-wide significance than ever before. Having passed through another great conflict to uphold the principles for which it stands, all the civilized lands of the earth have come to see more clearly that wherever our national emblem floats it means opposition to military aggression and selfish conquest; that wherever it is raised it creates a vision of justice and equality of rights for all men, high or low, and that what it desires above everything else is a peaceful and lasting peace within the borders of our own country and among all the nations of the world."

FRIDAY, JUNE 13

If you are at all superstitious, then look out for today, Friday, June 13.

The combination is dreaded by fishermen, fishermen, housewives and others.

Don't walk under a ladder. It is doubly dangerous if father is standing at the peak hanging a picture. He and picture, ladder and all, may come down upon whatever is under. Many people undertake no great business affairs on a date like Friday, June 13. For that matter, too, many people never do get up enough energy to undertake any kind of a proposition on any day.

It is unlucky to lose your diamond ring today.

It is also a sign of trouble for mother if the hired girl pulls up stakes and leaves today.

ADVISES ACCEPTING TERMS

But German Official Admits Government Will Fall.

Berlin, June 13.—Governor Haber of the German colonial office, just back from assisting the peace delegation in Versailles, declared his personal view is that the treaty should be signed, regardless of the Allies' reply to the counter proposals.

"I believe it is doubtful if the present government could sign the treaty without fairly strong modifications. If it wants to remain in office," Mr. Haber said.

UKRAINIAN MISSION COMING

Diplomatic Delegation on Its Way to Washington.

London, June 13.—An Ukrainian diplomatic mission has arrived in London and another delegation is on its way to Washington. The members of the mission have submitted their case to the British government and are reported to be satisfied with the reception accorded at the foreign office.

Co-ordinate military action by the Allies and the Ukrainians against the Bolsheviks is desired by the mission.

BRAINERD, MOVIE

Film World Clamoring for Right to Take Pictures of the Great Pageant at N. M. D. A.

LINCOLN, PAGEANT ORIGINATOR

Cass Lake Humming With Activity Preparing the Great Summer Convention of Association

It looks as if Brainerd was about to break into the limelight as the home town of not only moving picture stars, with our own Tommy Wood leading the celebrities but also as the home of scenario writers and originators of moving pictures.

The Cass Lake summer convention of the N. M. D. A. is featuring a historical pageant, covering the events of a century and the way the public is taking to the idea indicates that it will be a big event in the northern Minnesota town. Fred Lincoln, secretary of the N. M. D. A. and originator of this pageant idea, is receiving telegrams, letters and phone messages from moving picture houses asking everything from the opportunity to film this pageant to the exclusive rights in the picture.

For once in his life, at least, "Link" is in deep water and has consulted Manager Workman of the Best theatre as just what is best to do. "I can write the dope," says "Link," "but this sudden clamor for anything I ever wrote is almost too sudden. We will put this proposition across just the same and I guess they will know there is such a section of the country as Northern Minnesota when they see the evolution from 100 years ago to the present day."

Lincoln will go to Cass Lake Sunday night and put in the week arranging for the big convention, which takes place Friday and Saturday June 20-21. He will meet with Cass Lake business men Monday morning and every detail for the event will be carefully considered and the work laid out. There's a hard week ahead of the Brainerd hustler but if his pageant is a success and it looks pretty good from this distance, the press gang will say in chorus, "we told you so."

Brainerd will be well represented at the convention, many local parties now planning to make the trip by auto.

WAR IS FAR FROM ENDED IN SENATE

CONTEST OVER THE COVENANT OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS STILL RAGING UNABATED.

EXCITING BUT GETS NOWHERE

Opposing Forces, Led by Lodge and Williams, Furnish Much Entertainment for Themselves and the Visitors in the Galleries.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—The senate of the United States is not getting within forty miles of a decision on any point in the covenant of the league of nations. It is having a rare old time of it, and so are the people who jam the galleries to look down over the rail and to get their eyes full and their ears full of the glory and the noise attending this passage of arms, which outdoes anything since the day when the Disinherited Knight smote hip, thigh and helmet—the baker's half-dozen of mailed adversaries on the stricken field of Ashby de la Zouche. I think that was the place, but if it wasn't no harm is done.

It is almost wicked, admittedly, in this day of the hanging fate of a new solemn league and covenant to treat flippancy such a great affair of state, but the senate's actions are the excuse for it. The saving grace in Washington today is a sense of humor. If it were not so men here would go mad.

The war is over (supposedly) and the German is licked (without question), but the war in Washington is still going on and the devil of the thing is that the senate warriors are insisting on indulging in a thousand and one scrimmages over petty things before their arms can clash either to win or to lose a settling victory.

Senators Can't Help Fighting.

The senate is not to blame at all as a matter of fact. The individuals thereof simply have got the fever that has been rampaging through the world since August 1, 1914. One or two house men got into the trenches, but never a senator of them all saw the scrap. They have got to fight because the itch is on them, just as surely as it is on the small boys with tin hats on their heads and with tin swords in their hands, whom one meets on every street in this town from the habitations of the hilltop mighty to those of the lowly who dwell where once the Potomac marshes bred malarial mosquitoes and sent forth dank and unpleasant odors.

The scenes in the senate today are interestingly exciting, but wholly unenlightening. At times the peace pact and the covenant are entirely lost to sight in the dust fog which is raised by the senatorial scrimmages. The senate is the gravest deliberative body in the world, so it is said. Today, as one looks on the thumpings and the cudgel breakings, he thinks how sorely the other deliberative bodies of the world must need help.

Admittedly it is a scandalously flippancy way to put it, but looking into the pit of the senate today no one can tell which way the covenant cat is going to jump. The poor creature is being alternately harried and petted. Lodge and his following find new missiles under their desk covers daily, while Hitchcock and his cohorts keep handy their saucers of milk well mixed with the cream of sustenance.

All Having a Good Time.

Really one ought to forget about the cats, unless it is the Kilkenny cats. The senate is more like a bear pit of the more or less good Queen Bess' time than a pit for tabbies. It was Macaulay, wasn't it, who said that the Puritans objected to bear-baiting, not because it gave pain to the bear, but because it gave pleasure to the spectators? The covenant is not suffering any pangs from the treatment it is getting, but the spectators are having the time of a century, and so are the active participants in the row.

Recently friends of the covenant have claimed that the senate stands 40 to 47 in favor of the pact as Mr. Wilson wants it put through. Hair-like margins are dangerous. The opponents of the league, of course, still are hopeful. Lodge, a couple of years ago at the age of sixty-seven, smote and put to flight a husky assailant. At the age of sixty-nine Lodge is fighting as he never fought before.

He has to deal with exceedingly peppery, vigorous and able opponents, the ablest and most peppery being John Sharp Williams. Now Williams is one of the best of the bunch of pro-covenant supporters. He has a record for militancy behind him.

Today Lodge is being fought by this Mississippi senator who never was a pacifist, who never loved the Germans, and who from the earliest days of the present big conflict stood for the maintenance of American rights on the seas, and for everything else American, when a lot of other people were finding excuses for Germany's murders, rapings, burnings and scuttlings. The two sides to the league controversy are well matched. They both are wary and both know how to fight.

Where Her Thoughts Were.

Wife—I didn't think much of the close of that sermon.
 Hubby—No? You were probably thinking more of the clothes of the congregation, my dear.

Threaten to Move National Capital

(By United Press)

Washington, June 13 (United Press)—They're talking of moving the capital, and gosh the profiteers are "scared!"

Senator Sherman, Illinois, a plain spoken man who goes marketing with a basket on his arm, and who is the new chairman of the District of Columbia committee, started it all when he said if Washington landlords and merchants didn't stop charging so much for things, congress ought to get up and take the capital city out to Iowa, or some place from here.

Washingtonians took it seriously, because Sherman has said some mighty serious things about profiteering here, in senate speeches. The president of one of the numerous "civic pride" organizations which flourish in Washington hurried to Presidential Secretary Tumulty to learn whether there really was a possibility of congress and the government departments going west, leaving nothing here but the Potomac and the Washington monument.

Since Sherman made his remark, offers have come from several states (made quite unofficially of course, but in some cases by influential citizens) to have a real honest to goodness capital city set up in those commonwealths, with an iron clad guarantee against profiteering.

Senator Kenyon said he knows Iowa would do the job right, and Senator Reed asked that the claims of St. Louis be not overlooked. Senator Harding spoke feelingly of the Ohio climate and Hiram Johnson declared California would prove a matchless place for the capital. Senator Shepard proposed Texas and Senator Sherman himself modestly suggested that Chicago wouldn't be a bad choice.

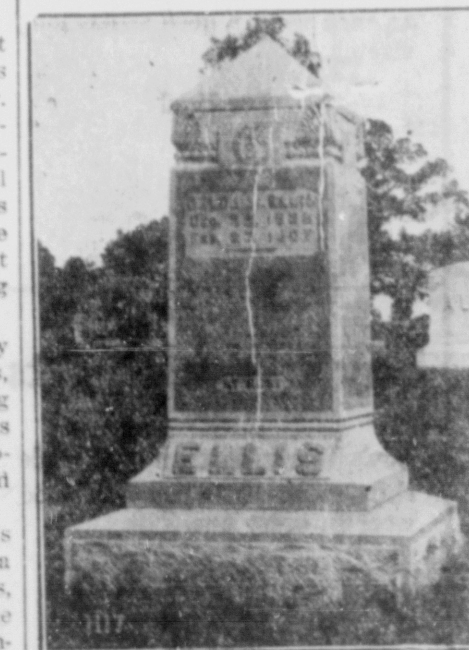

And now most any day it is likely that some chipper congressman will really introduce a bill to do it, thus throwing the Washingtonians who lived here before the war into new apprehensions lest the source of their new wealth be suddenly cut off.

WORK STARTS SOON NEW COURT HOUSE

County Commissioners Order County Auditor to Advise for Bids to Build Same

ESTIMATED COST $250,000

Four Additional Lots Purchased near Court House Site to Give More Space Around Buildings

Crow Wing county is to have a new court house estimated to cost about $250,000 and work of construction will start just as soon as the bids are let. The county commissioners instructed the county auditor, C. W. Mahlum, to advertise for bids.

The court house will be built on the site acquired by condemnation several years ago and on the south end of which stands the new county jail. The board decided upon the purchase of four additional lots on Fifth street, where the hay market was formerly located, for $5,000.

Condemnation proceedings will also be commenced for some vacant property just west of the jail on Laurel street, thus giving space around the buildings suitable for their size and importance.

Alden & Harris of St. Paul are the architects who have drawn plans and specifications. They also drew the plans for the county jail and the city hall, both of which are modern in design and fulfill every purpose of their requirements.

SUMMER GUESTS

FLOCKING TO CITY

Many Inquiries Received From Tourists and Prospective Summer Guests at Brainerd

INQUIRE CHAMBER COMMERCE

Literature Should be Issued by Owners of Lake Resorts and Kept on File at Chamber

Inquiries from tourists and prospective summer guests are coming in rapidly and the Chamber of Commerce offices are being visited almost daily by parties seeking accommodations for an outing at some of the lake resorts and in cottages.

The Chamber is making plans to conduct an efficient information bureau this season and parties who have cottages for rent for either the season or short terms are invited to supplement their ads in the local papers by advising the information bureau just what they have, the location, prices and general details. This service is free to the public and is maintained in the interests of the tourist and the owners of lake resorts.

Clippings from the papers announcing cottages for rent are kept on file at the office of the secretary and are of great assistance in locating prospective visitors.

Literature, issued by owners of lake resorts, should be made available for distribution by the bureau and resort owners are urged to be up and doing in this respect. There is a noticeable lack in this kind of information and it is suggested that owners of available resorts furnish the Chamber all available literature and such booklets as they have on hand and if lacking in a supply, see that some is printed for distribution at once.

Prospects for the most active season in the history of the resort business in this locality are bright. It is only by co-operation and business methods that the visiting tourist can be afforded service and the Chamber is anxious to assist in every manner possible.

FARMER NEEDS RAPID TRANSIT

Much Time Lost in Travel Between City and Home, Says Speaker

"The origin of rural motor express lines is obscure, but they have probably been in operation on a small scale and in widely separated neighborhoods for several years," said F. E. Fenn, secretary of the Rural Motor Express Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in a New York address recently, in which he brought out clearly the rapid development and advantages of these systems. "For many years hucksters have called on farmers, bargained with them for products and sold to the market at a profit. This was bad for the farmer, because the prices he obtained hardly made it worth while to produce; bad for the merchant, because it added little to the prosperity of the farmer and so kept him incapable of becoming the good customer he ought to have been; and bad for the consumer, because the product of the farmers was insufficient and a lot of material came into town that was unfit for food, as for example the decrepit rooster and the disreputable egg.

"Up to that time it was supposed that railroads carried all food necessary. We had overlooked the fact that half of our farmers are miles away from a railroad and received so little encouragement that they produced only what they needed for home consumption. It was only when the railroads failed, when embargoes became general, and when the farmer was obliged to waste a great part of what he had raised, that our minds turned definitely toward this newer method of transportation.

"The present day rural motor express does six important things. It is:

"A method of getting to market supplies of food hitherto unavailable because of the distance between producer and the market, and lack of other transportation.

"A method of relieving railroads of short and unprofitable hauls.

"A method of encouraging business between farmers and merchants by increasing the earnings of the farmer and improving his purchasing power.

"A method of decreasing dissatisfaction on the part of farmers and farm hands by providing increased facilities and comfort.

"A method of transporting produce to the consumer more quickly and in better condition than ever before.

"A method of maintaining men on the farms and in producing work by others who now spend a great part of their time driving to market."

Mr. Fenn's address was given during an eight-day session of the "First Semi-Annual Motor Transportation Conference," conducted by the Codd-Cratton Co., New York dealer for Dodge Brothers, Detroit.

SPORTS

IRONTON, RIVAL OF BRAINERD NINE

What Will No Doubt be One of the Hardest Battles of the Season will be Coming Sunday Game

KOERING FIELD, 3 P. M. SHARP

George A. Ridley Has Spared No Expense to Collect a Fast Team Together

What will no doubt prove to be one of the hardest battles of the season takes place Sunday afternoon at Koering ball park when the locals take on the fast coming Ironton league team.

The range town has always given Brainerd a hard fight and, from all reports they are loading up for a hard game.

Geo. Ridley, manager of the Ironton club, has spared no expense to collect a fast team together. New faces on the team will include Babe Clemmens, a pitcher of considerable experience; Bob Hallet, Indian infielder and pitcher; Moore of St. Paul, who is considered another Wolfe, on shortstop, and others. Put Russ is back from France and Jack Schmidt is also expected this week, so the line-up looks plenty formidable enough to win.

The locals, however, are going fine. Lefty Hier is in fine condition and has worked in two shut-outs in succession, while the offensive strength of the team is all that can be desired. The feature, so far, has been the hard, consistent hitting of Sig Shello, who is going great guns with the stick, courting the modest percentage of .666 so far. The whole team right through is hitting in good form and should make it hot for any pitcher they face, so Ironton has not been conceding anything by the local fans who know.

A big crowd is coming from Ironton to help win for the range town and some hot rooting will be the result, as the locals are drawing well and a big crowd is sure to be on hand, weather permitting.

Considerable trouble has arisen by teams not arriving in time. Pres. Sylvester has notified his umpires to call the games Sunday promptly at 3 o'clock and has notified the different managers of teams on the road to have their teams on the field and ready for play at the right time. The delay last Sunday was unavoidable and Manager Strout wants it known that games, hereafter are guaranteed to start on time and will go the limit of nine innings as all games are played under Central Minnesota League rules.

GAMES IN CENTRAL MINNIE LEAGUE SUN.

Ironton plays at Brainerd. Little Falls at Verndale. Staples at Crosby.

ARMY OF BASEBALL PLAYERS AND FANS

AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN FRANCE WERE LARGELY DEVOTED TO THE NATIONAL GAME.

MANY WERE PROFESSIONALS

Reason Why Several Were Given Captaincies in Flame and Gas Service—Story of Ride to Front With Eppa Rixey.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—A general officer of the American expeditionary forces spoke one day of our combined units in France as "an army of baseball players."

The general was not far from right. It is probable that every man in our forces on the other side at some time or other in his life had played the great national game. It also is probable that at least three-fourths of the men in the service overseas, and on this side, too, for that matter, regularly had given over their Saturday afternoons and their other times of release from work to the sport of baseball.

There were many professional baseball players in the ranks of the men abroad. To name only three or four of the better known ones among them, there were Christy Mathewson, Hank Gowdy, Ty Cobb and Eppa Rixey.

When Mathewson, Cobb and Rixey were commissioned as captains in the gas and flame service of the United States there was some criticism of the action. Why, it was asked, should these men be given captaincies when they had had no previous military experience? There was a real reason for making men of this kind captains of the gas and flame service.

These men were known undoubtedly to every soldier in the American expeditionary forces. A gas officer has services of a peculiar kind to perform. It is necessary for him to have the close attention of his men when they are under instructions and it is necessary also that the instructor should be a man well qualified physically to do things well, and in a hurry, and should so impart the lessons to others that they will be equally capable and alert.

Going to the Front With Rixey.

With Eppa Rixey, the left-handed twirler of the Philadelphia Nationals, I had 24 hours of intimate acquaintance. A man can live a long time in 24 hours when he is on or near the battle front in France. Rixey is a fine type of soldier. He is still in service. One day some time before the armistice went into effect I was in Souilly, not far from Verdun. This place then was the field headquarters of General Pershing. From Souilly I was to go to the front in the Argonne to report to Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, then in command of the First army corps—a corps, by the way, which fought all the way through the Argonne and up to Sedan. Dickman is now in command of the army of occupation in Germany.

At Souilly I was waiting for an opportunity to hop into a motorcar and proceed the 100 miles necessary to be traversed before reaching the First corps' headquarters. Along came Captain Rixey in an open motor with his bedding roll, his gas mask and his tin hat. He had been ordered to proceed to the far front to act as gas officer of one of the fighting divisions.

This baseball pitcher, who is a nephew of a former surgeon general of the United States navy and a graduate of the University of Virginia, stands about 6 feet 4 inches in his hiking shoes, and he is big in proportion. It was some ride that Eppa Rixey and I undertook that day. It was as cold as France in October knows how to be, as windy as it was cold, and most of the time it was "raining harder than both."

Strong, Kind and Efficient.

I came pretty near freezing, because my bones are not clothed with as much flesh as Rixey can boast. Moreover, I am old enough to be his father, and then some. That day he looked after me much as a good son looks after his father, and this was not due to the fact that I ranked him in the army.

From out of many a hole into which the motor plunged and stuck did Rixey's big shoulder and hard muscles pull us, or rather shove us. He was the skirmisher-in-chief for food, and when night fell and the incoming and outgoing artillery and munition and food trucks cluttered the way it was he who, in the blackness of the night, felt out the course for us and enabled us to get somewhere when getting there seemed impossible.

For a considerable part of that journey we watched the flashes of the big guns on the hillside. At night we ran dark because of the presence of German airplanes. Rixey found food for us when the finding seemed impossible, and finally, late at night, due to his piloting, we reached a haven of rest in a shell-torn, roofless structure at Buzancy. There we slept in our bedding rolls, he on the floor and I in a flea-ridden Boche bunk. The next day at breakfast we learned that 100 pounds of high explosives with a fuse attached had been found in the basement of the mess building.

Rixey and I separated at General Dickman's headquarters. He went to his division and made good. When he comes back to this side I am going to turn chaperon for at least twenty-four hours and see to it that he is fed well, the high cost of living notwithstanding.

The Good Oranges from Thousands of Trees

What interests you is how to get uniformly good oranges every time you buy.

We make it easy for you to do that by labeling our best oranges "Sunkist."

We employ skilled graders who are competent to judge good oranges. We set a standard for them. Millions of oranges that pass under the scrutiny of these experts do not meet this standard.

Those that do measure up to it are packed as "Sunkist." They are the better oranges from thousands of carefully cultured trees.

If you want uniformly good oranges every time you buy, simply ask for them by name—
